FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

CAASTLC to Host Summer Job Fair

Today’s job hunters are seeking employment in the age of technology. Most have clicked “apply” a thousand times and received a response from virtually no one. Naturally, candidates grow tired of sending resumes into cyberspace with no results.

Job fairs offer a refreshing opportunity to meet the people on the receiving end of the DSL line. Candidates can speak with employer representatives face to face and learn important details about their hiring processes and priority qualifications. In addition, job seekers can make a powerful first impression through their appearance and professionalism that may carry more weight than a simple application.

The Community Action Agency of St. Louis County, Inc. (CAASTLC) is preparing to host its Summer Job Fair and invites job seekers 18 and older to attend. The fair will be held Thursday, August 13th from 1-4 pm at the Overland Community Center (9225 Lackland Rd., 63114).

Employers will be recruiting for openings in hospitality, sales, education, customer service, labor, nursing, nonprofit, clerical, and more. Candidates are encouraged to bring resumes and information necessary for filling applications. Professional dress is required.
