

KEEPING PERSPECTIVE
Thoughts from a Client...

By Andre Bradley

I've recently gained a great opportunity with CAASTLC through working with them. I've also learned that it's possible to achieve my goals that I set for myself. Just seconds after meeting with David Barnes, I knew that I had the help I needed to keep my head in the game with his twelve class program teaching me the knowledge and the focus points of becoming a better person. Drugs were a battle for me, and I'm gaining the strength I needed to help myself- so now I'm helping him help me.

I was introduced to James Ingram for job placement. In most places I was just another face, but with James Ingram I was more than that. Within two weeks I had an interview with Spirit Staffing and I got my chance to show a company that I am willing to work. This was something that would be hard for me to do on my own; James took a few minutes from his day to offer me this opportunity. The staff at CAASTLC is continually helping people move forward; so in return, I represented James and CAASTLC well by getting the job and keeping a great face for the agency.

David also introduced me to Janice McKinney-Gage who is a wonderful person as well. When I sat down with Janice, she gave me info on how to become my own business owner. I gave her what it is that I'm trying to do and she took it from there. She enrolled me in a program in which I'm currently taking classes to obtain that goal which means a lot for me. I don't have to wonder if I can anymore. Because of working with David, James, and Janice, my dreams are becoming a reality. I really thank you guys for making major changes in my life as well as my family's. You guys will always be a part of my life story when I spread the word on how my success became a reality. THANK YOU. THANK YOU. THANK YOU.
